Earnings per share fell to 5.73 cents in FY2020 from 6.58 cents in FY2019. GlobalData: Singapore construction industry to post V-shaped recovery in 2021 | World Cement, Monday, 24 July 2020

The Singaporean construction industry is expected to post a V-shaped recovery in 2021 with the industry rebounding to post a growth of 11.2%, measured at constant 2017 US dollar exchange rates, following the sharp contraction of 17.8% in 2020. Thereafter, the industry is expected to grow at an annual average rate of 2.7% over the remaining part of the forecast period (2022 –2024) to grow to US$19.9 billion in 2024, which is still below the 2019 level, says GlobalData, a leading data and analytics company. The unprecedented contraction in 2020 has been driven by a complete halt of construction activities, except for work on some essential projects during the near two-month 'circuit-breaker' period of 7 April to 1 June 2020. Moreover, the unavailability of manpower coupled with supply chain disruptions caused lengthy delays in project implementation.

They were also the most affected by the circuit breaker and safe distancing measures, the report noted. The construction sector saw one of the largest declines in employment, by 13,600 workers, while food and beverage services saw a plunge of 22,900. Workers at construction firms had their labour halted, especially during the circuit breaker months. Straits Construction executive director Kenneth Loo said some staff were put on forms of compulsory leave. Other firms also cut workers' pay.

Singapore must remain open to benefit from Asia's growth: Heng | Business Times, August 10, 2020

Singapore can contribute to and benefit from Asia's growth only if it remains open and connected to the world, while forging new partnerships and evolving its approaches, Deputy Prime Minister Heng Swee Keat said. In a keynote speech at the FutureChina Global Forum on Tuesday, Mr Heng noted that many workers are anxious about their jobs and the benefits of economic openness. "But we must not undermine what has made us successful, by closing ourselves off from the world," said Mr Heng, who is also Finance Minister. "To ensure that the benefits of globalisation remain beneficial to all countries, we will have to restructure our economies and upskill our workers." In Singapore, the government is adjusting its employment policies, upskilling workers and strengthening its social safety nets to ensure they continue to serve the interests of Singaporeans, he said. China, too, is continuing to reform its economy, and President Xi Jinping has spoken about how the domestic market for goods and services and "international circulation" must reinforce each other in the country's new economic model, Mr Heng noted.

Singapore announces another $5.8 billion to boost its coronavirus-hit economy | CNBC, August 7, 2020

The country's open and trade-dependent economy has been among the hardest hit in Asia following lockdown measures around the world aimed at slowing the spread of the coronavirus. Singapore's government has allocated another 8 billion Singapore dollars ($5.8 billion) to support the economy that has come under pressure from the coronavirus pandemic, Deputy Prime Minister and Finance Minister Heng Swee Keat said Monday. "The resulting economic impact has been severe," Heng, who's also coordinating minister for economic policies, said in a televised address. He added that "the global economy remains very weak" and any recovery "will depend on how well countries contain the spread of the virus."

'Great Urgency' to Make Over Singapore's Economy, Says President | Bloomberg, August 4, 2020

With the coronavirus pandemic threatening the global openness and integration that have allowed Singapore to prosper, President Halimah Yacob said there's "great urgency" to transform the city-state's economy. "Much of our economy thrives because we have made ourselves a vibrant hub for the region and an attractive place for trade, investments, talent and ideas," Halimah said Monday, addressing the first session of parliament since July's general election. "We cannot take our hub status for granted, or assume that its scope and role will remain the same." She said the country will resume air travel safely and help its companies develop links to new markets. Meanwhile, efforts to bolster resilience in critical areas such as food, health care and supply chain management can become new sources of growth, while the Southeast Asian nation will also make a major push for sustainable growth including for green financing across the region, she said.
